Personal Injury Claims

Pursuant to §23(13) of the Marshall Islands Nuclear Claims Tribunal Act 1987, as amended, the Tribunal adopted regulations in August 1991 establishing a list of 25 medical conditions which are irrefutably presumed to be the result of the Nuclear Testing Program. Those regulations were amended by the Tribunal and approved by the Cabinet of the Republic of the Marshall Islands in January 1994 to add two additional conditions (numbers 26 and 27 below) to the presumed list. Effective October 1, 1996, the regulations were again amended by the Tribunal and approved by the Cabinet to include seven additional conditions (numbers 28-34 below). Based on a 1996 report from the Radiation Effects Research Foundation entitled Studies of the Mortality of Atomic Bomb Survivors, bone cancer was added to the list in 1998 (number 35 below). Autoimmune thyroiditis was added to the list in 2003 (number 36 below).

For eligible claimants, the administratively presumed medical conditions and the amounts of compensation for each that will be paid in pro rata annual payments are as follows:
